

Endorsement Quotes

How can you be in love with a book? Easy – when it has the enduring impact on a child that Patrice Karst’s books do. I was struggling to find a tangible way to help my grandchildren understand how they are always in my heart, and that we’re always connected even when we are thousands of miles apart... Then I discovered The Invisible String. Now, with The Smile That Went Around the World, Karst has proven anew that when it comes to introducing children to the most important messages in life, she’s got the magic touch. Such simple, beautiful, books – such profound effects. Every home should have them.
